SUNDAY OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

When I was a student in southern Italy, every winter I used to see the shepherds coming from the north with their sheep; they were staying around for three months, so that the sheep could find grass to eat during those times. They used to spend all day and all night with their sheep; the shepherd used to throw a whistle and all the sheep used to follow him; he had three dogs who would guard day and night the whole flock. What a life! Rain or shine, day and night with their sheep. Pope Francis said that the shepherd (priests) should smell like the sheep!

Jesus is telling us today that He is our shepherd. First of all, he gives us his life; day and night he is here in the tabernacle and never goes away. He keeps the wolves away from us, protecting and guiding our journey of faith and of life. He knows each one by name; and we know exactly his voice, so that we can listen when he calls. He does not abandon us when troubles come up in our life; he is not a mercenary, who works for money, but he is a shepherd who gives up all his life for us. And finally, He keeps all the sheep united in one flock; He loves all his sheep and gathers them all together. And if necessary, He will send his dogs to bark and bring the stray sheep all inside his flock.

“So, there will be one flock, one shepherd”.

TODAY we also pray for Priestly and Religious Vocations. Even though we all have our own personal vocations, today we pray for priests and missionaries who generously devote all their life for evangelization in our Church. God is surely calling young people today; the problem is that we have grown selfish and materialistic, and we lack the courage to say a total yes to God. It is fundamental that the Christian community show support and enthusiasm when a young man or woman shows signs of vocation. Unfortunately, we too many times lack the faith to spur our youth into a radical service to the Lord in His Church.

In our parish, let us pray and support any activity which will help young men and women to respond generously to the radical call of Christ to become shepherds of the people of God in our church.

Vatican summit on 'theology of the priesthood' will look at questions raised in recent synods.

The title of the symposium is: "Toward a Fundamental Theology of the Priesthood," and will take place from February 17-19, 2022 in the Vatican. It is intended to reflect on the issues raised by the last 3 synods of the Family, of Youth and of the Amazon, including priestly celibacy, dwindling vocations, and the role of women in the Church. As a parish we will pray and follow up on those important issues in our church.

SHARE LIFE Today is also the World Day of Prayer for vocations. With your generous support of ShareLife, we can continue to invest in the education of our future clergy. Thank you very much for support.
