The 15th Sunday in Ordinary Time reminds us that God's law calls us to love. The readings show us how love for God and love for others cannot be separated.

The Law Points Us to Love

In the first reading, God reminds Israel that His law is not far away or hard to understand. The laws were meant to shape people who loved God and cared for one another. Over time, as Jewish society changed from a collective of small farms to a more urban based culture, some laws became harder to understand or apply. People began to focus more on rules about purity than on caring for others.

This is why the Gospel story of the Good Samaritan matters so much. Jesus shows that the heart of God's law is love. Loving God and loving others go hand in hand. It is about becoming the kind of people who care for those around us. God wants us to love our neighbors and act with kindness.

The Good Samaritan Shows God's Will

In the Gospel, Jesus tells a parable to answer a challenge. He uses the example of a Samaritan to show what it means to follow God's will. Samaritans were seen as outsiders who did not keep the law like the Jewish people. Yet, in the parable, the Samaritan does what others do not—he stops to care for someone who is suffering.

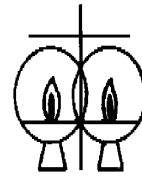

The priest and Levite, who should have known the law best, ignore the man in need. They may have been concerned about purity rules or their own safety. But Jesus shows that God's law is not about avoiding people. It is about helping them. The Samaritan, though rejected by others, lives out God's call to love.

Loving Without Holding Grudges

The Samaritan in the parable does not ask who the injured man is. He does not stop to question whether the man deserves help. He simply chooses to care for him. Jesus teaches us that love does not carry grudges or make excuses. Loving others means seeing their needs and responding to them with kindness.

We are invited let go of grudges and choose love. Jesus shows us how to look past divisions and see every person as a neighbor. When we act with mercy, we become the people God calls us to be.

Prayer intentions of the Holy Father For the month of July 2025

For formation in discernment

Let us pray that we might again learn how to discern, to know how to choose paths of life, and reject everything that leads us away from Christ and the Gospel.
