SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The 6th Sunday in Ordinary Time invites us to think about what it means to follow God's law. Jesus teaches that obeying rules is not enough. He wants his followers to understand the deeper meaning behind them.

Laws on the Mountain

Today's Readings remind us that Jesus did not come to erase the law but to fulfill it. In the Gospel, he goes up a mountain, just like Moses did when he received the Ten Commandments. But Jesus does not just repeat the law—he explains its deeper meaning. He shows that following God is not just about obeying rules but about having the right heart.

The Old Testament law was given to guide people toward holiness. But Jesus brings something greater. He completes the law by teaching that love is at its center. The law is not just a set of rules—it is a path to a good and just life.

Not Just Rule Followers

The 6th Sunday in Ordinary Time reminds us that faith is not just about following rules. Jesus tells his followers that their righteousness must be greater than that of the scribes and Pharisees. These religious leaders were strict about obeying the law, but they sometimes missed the bigger picture. Jesus wants more than just obedience—he wants people to live with love and sincerity.

Rules are important, but they are not the goal. The goal is to live as children of God, treating others with kindness and honesty. When people focus only on rules, they can become judgmental or prideful. Jesus calls his followers to something higher—a life shaped by love.

Justice and Love

Today's Readings remind us that laws should lead to justice and love. Jesus does not reject the law, but he teaches that its purpose is to guide people toward what is right. The goal is not just obedience but a life shaped by goodness. It is not enough to do the minimum required by God. A true follower of Jesus asks, "How can I live with more love, more honesty, and more justice?" By focusing on these things, we live the way Jesus teaches.
