MASS INTENTIONS

The 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time highlights the call to love, act with justice, and live out faith.

Old Rules for Fair Treatment

The first reading gives laws about justice and fairness. God tells His people not to mistreat foreigners, widows, or orphans. He also tells them to be fair when lending money and to return a borrowed cloak before sunset. These laws show that God cares for the weak and expects His people to do the same.

Many people today face discrimination or unfair treatment because they are different. The reading reminds people to be welcoming and kind, especially to those who are alone or struggling.

The laws given are not just old rules. They teach fairness and compassion.

Actions Matter

The second reading today speaks about faith in action. Paul praises the Thessalonians because their faith is not just words. They live in a way that shows what they believe. Others see their example and are inspired.

Faith should change how people live. It is not enough to say the right things. Actions show what is truly in a person's heart. If someone believes in love and justice, they must show it in how they treat others with love, kindness, and fairness.

Love and Compassion

The Gospel says the greatest commandment is to love God and love others. Jesus explains that all laws are based on these two commandments.

Loving God means more than just prayers or worship. It means following His ways and caring for others. Love is not just a feeling—it is a choice and an action. It means treating people with kindness, fairness, and respect.

Today, there are many who are struggling—people without homes, those facing discrimination, or those who are lonely. Loving them means more than feeling sorry for them. It means helping in real ways. Love is active. Loving God and loving others go together. If people truly love God, they will show it by caring for those in need.

During the month of October of the Holy Rosary, our parish is preparing to launch a new ROSARY FOR MEN GROUP. This initiative offers men a simple space to pray together, support one another, and grow in faith with humility and courage.

Many men carry responsibilities quietly — for their families, work, and community. The Rosary provides a steady and peaceful way to bring these intentions to the Lord under the protection of Mary and St. Joseph. This group is not meant to separate or divide; it is simply one way our parish supports the spiritual growth of all its members by offering men a dedicated moment of prayer and fellowship.

We invite all men — fathers, sons, grandfathers, young adults, and seniors — join us for our first gathering Saturday, October 31st at 3:00 pm in the Church. No experience is needed; rosaries will be available. For more information, please contact the parish office or speak with Fr. Gabriel.
